The handwriting practice sheet is divided into several sections for different types of strokes. Each section consists of a series of horizontal lines, with the first few lines in each section containing a pattern of the stroke being practiced. Red arrows indicate the starting point and direction of the stroke.

- Section 1: Vertical lines. The first line shows a series of vertical lines of varying heights, with a red arrow pointing down at the start of the first line.
- Section 2: Diagonal lines (top-left to bottom-right). The first line shows a series of diagonal lines, with a red arrow pointing down at the start of the first line.
- Section 3: Diagonal lines (bottom-left to top-right). The first line shows a series of diagonal lines, with a red arrow pointing down at the start of the first line.
- Section 4: Curved lines (top-left to bottom-right). The first line shows a series of curved lines, with a red arrow pointing down at the start of the first line.
- Section 5: Curved lines (bottom-left to top-right). The first line shows a series of curved lines, with a red arrow pointing down at the start of the first line.
